Call for 18th European Guide Conference Programme Volunteers

Join our Programme Team for the 18th European Guide Conference and play a critical role in shaping an innovative and engaging event.

Explanation of the Role

We are looking for one Programme Team Lead and one Programme Team Member who are creative, dynamic, and ready to take on the challenge of designing and executing a standout conference programme. If you are creative and have a passion for Guiding and Scouting, this is your opportunity to lead and inspire change across our community. Here's what the roles will involve:

Prior to the conference:

- Innovatively designing the overall conference programme.
- Coordinating the development of workshops and panel sessions with participating MOs (Member Organizations) and external partners.

During the conference:

- Leading and supporting the facilitation and evaluation of panels/workshops.
- Ensuring the conference space promotes a guiding and scouting ethos.

After the conference:

- Contributing to the compilation of the evaluation report.

As a key member of our passionate team, you will ensure that all delegates have a meaningful and memorable experience! The team will commence activities in the middle of February 2025.

Required Volunteer Hours

The roles will require a minimum of 2 hours of input a week leading up to the Conference. During the conference itself, this role is demanding and requires full attendance. The Programme Team Lead may also need to attend a physical planning meeting in Vienna by the end of February 2025.

Application Process

You can download the application form from here. Please send your application to Europe.Reco@waggs.org with 'Application for 18th European Guide Conference Programme Team' in the subject line. Applications must be returned before February 2nd, 2025, and will be assessed based on creativity, leadership skills, and past experience, using criteria set by the Regional Committee. All applicants will be notified of their status by the middle of February 2025.

The Committee eagerly anticipates your innovative contributions and thanks you in advance for your dedication to enriching our guiding and scouting event.

Volunteer Benefits

As a volunteer, you'll join an international team and gain invaluable experience in event management and creative programming within the WAGGGS framework. Support for travel, accommodation, and conference fees will be provided.
